ABOUT INTERNATIONAL SHIPYARD ANCONA (ISA)

The end of 1998 saw the inception of the ISA project, an initiative of a group of managers from Ancona with expertise in the construction of large yachts. In 2006 ISA was taken over by the YACHTING INVESTORS GROUP, a private investment fund operating out of London, UK.

The outstanding features of the yard are the quality of its management and the skilled labour force that enable it to build different types of vessels, all with a high technology content and sophisticated design. The building yard has a flexibility that simply can not be found in any of its competitors businesses. ISA has so far delivered a series of yachts which break the category's traditional design mould with their famous unobstructed stairway from stern-deck up to the sun-deck.

ABOUT OCEANSTYLE YACHTING

Over the past 2 years, OceanStyle has been turning heads in the industry, with phenomenal growth since launch. As the world's only specialist in top of the range 20 to 40 metre sports yachts, OceanStyle has a very strong central agency listing of pre-owned yachts for sale, and excellent relationships with the principal shipyards for commissioning new builds.

Although a multi-million dollar yacht is unlikely to be an impulse purchase, OceanStyle has an impressive central agency brokerage fleet, with at least 25 superb yachts in the 20 to 40 metre size range for sale at any one time. As the only specialists in high quality, pedigree yachts of this genre, it is hardly surprising that we sell these irresistible yachts quickly, promoting them to prospective buyers across the Burgess network and far beyond. We not only know the market, we know the yachts!

As you would expect from a Nigel Burgess Group company, the OceanStyle team has earned a reputation for exceptional service. The business continues to go from strength to strength, expanding internationally with a new office opening in Palma shortly and a growing interest in new and emerging markets, particularly Dubai, India and China.

No other company provides a full specialist service for yachts in this sector: OceanStyle is able to offer comprehensive support throughout the yacht's ownership, with a clear focus on professional service for all operational aspects of owning, maintaining, managing, buying and selling these terrific yachts.

OceanStyle is a young and dynamic company, every bit as exciting as the yachts it represents, and it is gratifying to see the business not just keeping pace with the market, but leading the way and helping to create the next generation of high performance sports yachts.
